

good night,
and good luck.

About this guide:

Developed by Candace Perkins Bowen
for the Radio and Television News Directors Foundation

The RTNDF Goodnight, and Good Luck. Teacher's Guide was written by nationally known journalism educator Candace Perkins Bowen. She is the scholastic Media Program coordinator at Kent State University. For more than 20 years Candace Perkins Bowen was a high school teacher and student media adviser in suburban Illinois and Fairfax County, Virginia. In 1989, She was the Dow Jones National High School Journalism Teacher of the Year and from 1993-1997 was president of the Journalism Education Association. She is also a former head of the Scholastic Journalism Division and Council of Affiliates of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication. A strong advocate of student free expression, Candace Perkins Bowen was a board member of the Student Press Law Center from 1993 to 2004 and has served as Outreach and Programming Committee chair since 2002.

RTNDF would like to thank Warner Independent Pictures for its cooperation in the development of this guide. Photos from "Good Night, and Good Luck." were licensed by Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Photos from the Library of Congress and National Archives were provided courtesy of the Newseum.

"Good Night, and Good Luck."

MPAA: Rated PG for mild thematic elements and brief language.

Runtime: 93 min

DVDs available at www.warnerbros.com

Teachers, please send your ideas, new discussion questions, lesson plans, comments, etc. to carolk@rtndf.org.

Written by Candace Perkins Bowen

Produced by RTNDF's High School Journalism Project

Carol Knopes, Director

Mike Song, Project Coordinator and Teacher Guide Manager

Irving Washington, Coordinator

Design by Paul Fisher, Fisher Design

The RTNDF High School Journalism Project is funded by a generous grant from the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation

Copyright © 2006 The Radio and Television News Directors Foundation